

Schools Close To-Day; Just See Those Smiles

Thousands of Children Happy, for There Will Be No More Books for Them Until Sept. 14 Next.

Wearing best bib and tucker, and smiling that taxed the capacity of their well-scrubbed faces, thousands of children trooped merrily to school to-day. They flitted about excited but happy—too happy to play with their customary enthusiasm.

For it is the last day of school. Many of the graduation exercises will be elaborate, and while closing and promotion day brought gladness to many, a few were somewhat downcast because they will have a brief respite, being scheduled for the vacation schools opening Monday.

The usual discipline is being maintained to-day as best it can be, considering the flutter of expectancy among the smaller pupils, and after 3 o'clock there will be no more school books for most of the pupils until September 1, when the schools reopen for lessons.

Many of the 12,900 boys and girls who have finished the elementary branch will go to the high schools. Manhattan is sending Brooklyn in the number of pupils graduated from the elementary schools. The figures are: Manhattan, 3,002; Brooklyn, 3,312; Queens, 1,233; Richmond, 256. Those who will attend high school may present their cards of admission to-day.

The closing exercises of School No. 6, at Hester and Essex streets, last night was quite an event, and ended with the presentation of a flag by the 300 pupils.

As a closing reminder the pupils have all been asked by their teachers to refrain from making a noise during vacation near a hospital or near any home where they know some one is sick, particularly on Fourth of July. They were also asked to see that their parents sent to the Board of Health for one of the cards of advice to parents on the proper care of infants.

The principals have announced to teachers the opening, September 14, of a day school for the deaf in the old Stuyvesant High School building, No. 125 East Twenty-third street. Miss Margaret A. Ryan will be principal, and it will be known as Public School No. 40.

Frank Rollins has resigned as principal of the Stuyvesant High School to become Second Deputy Commissioner of Education, succeeding E. J. Goodwin, who returned to Packer Institute as president.

Stuyvesant High School will leave for Cleveland to attend the meeting of the National Education Association. Most of the 20 teachers who will attend leave to-night.

BALLOON SUCCEEDS IN CROSSING THE ALPS.

BRIG, Switzerland, June 30.—The Swiss Aero Club's balloon, Cognac, has succeeded in crossing the Alps.

Queen Margherita's cup and $1,000 offered to any one who would cross the high Alps in a balloon were won June 21, 1907, by Carlo Uboldi and Enrico Trossi, of Milan, who sailed over Mont Blanc, the highest of the Alps. In the following March Sig. Uboldi visited

TEN EYCK TO TRAIN
E. H. HARRIMAN'S SONS.

Railroad Magnate Engages Syracuse Varsity Coach to Teach Lads Oarsmanship.

Mr. H. Ten Eyck, who coached Syracuse University's crews to victory on Saturday last in the Poughkeepsie regatta, arrived here this morning to take Avedis and Edward H. Harriman, Jr., sons of the railroad magnate, under his tutelage. Mr. Harriman has engaged him to try to make oarsmen out of his boys.

Mr. Harriman and his family attended the Poughkeepsie regatta, and after the races were over he and his two boys visited the Syracuse headquarters and congratulated Ten Eyck. It was then that the railroad magnate asked the coach to take his sons and teach them how to pull a boat.

Ten Eyck left Syracuse this night to keep an appointment here this morning with Mr. Harriman's secretary.

PERSIAN LEADERS HANGED.

TEHERAN, Persia, June 30.—Twelve members of the National Council condemned by court-martial have been hanged.
